It's always best to install solar during construction, but the best time to buy it is up to you!

PROTECTING YOUR FAMILY

Stoddart Group is the only solar supplier that will install your inverter and ground DC isolator in a fire-proof enclosure. We also ensure all high voltage cabling is installed in a steel conduit to protect your family for many years to come.

THE BEST TIME TO INSTALL SOLAR IS DURING YOUR NEW BUILD

- ✔ It's better looking as your inverter is installed in an enclosure that can be integrated into the external wall.
- ✔ It's straightforward, with the freedom to run wires where they need to go without any knock-on costs.
- ✔ You get a real warranty, from a company that's been around for over 60 years and has built a reputation for never compromising on quality.

Attention to detail matters when you're working on a roof.

Stoddart Group is not just Australia's leading solar installer on new homes, we've also been delivering quality roof installations right around Australia for decades. Because we only install solar during construction, it means we can do all the little things right, ensuring your solar doesn't compromise the quality of your roof as is commonly the case with retrofit solar systems.
